LOCAL GOOD ROAD LEVIES CARRIED IN MANY COUNTIES

Ohio Votes $15,000,000 Available for Road Work Next Year

Columbus, Nov. 8.—According to figures compiled by the Ohio Good Roads federation, 29 counties of the state voted in favor of the local good roads levies at the election last Tuesday.

This makes available for road purposes the sum of $15,210,000. Counties in which levies were defeated are Adams, Auglaize, Brown, Fulton, Hardin, Huron, Logan, Madison and Morrow. Ten counties which defeated local road levies last year voted for them this year. They are as follows: Champaign, Clermont, Delaware, Hancock, Jackson, Meigs, Morgan, Noble, Warren and Wood.

The Ohio Good Roads federation aided greatly in the campaign for the local road levies, sending speakers and literature into the counties and placing advertisements in the newspapers. The levies range from 8 to 2 mills and the time period extends from two to five years, with the exception of Paulding county, in which it is 10 years.

The counties which adopted the road levies, with the amount of levy, time to run and total amount to be raised follow: Allen, 2 mills, 5 years, $1,250,000; Butler, 1 mill, 5 years, $775,000; Champaign, 1 mill, 5 years, $153,000; Clermont, 2 mills, 5 years, $280,000; Clinton, 2 mills, 5 years, $410,000; Delaware, 1 mill, 5 years, $245,000; Franklin, 8 mills, 5 years, $2,800,000; Greene, 2 mills, 5 years, $510,000; Guernsey, 2 mills, 5 years, $460,000; Hancock, 1 mill, 2 years, $192,000; Harrison, 1½ mills, 5 years, $277,500; Jackson, 2 mills, 5 years, $210,000; Lawrence, 2 mills, 5 years, $410,000; Lorain, 1 mill, 4 years, $704,000; Lake, 2 mills, 5 years, $900,000; Marion, 2 mills, 5 years, $470,000; Meigs, 2 mills, 5 years, $210,000; Morgan, 2 mills, 5 years, $180,000; Muskingum, 1 mill, 5 years, $400,000; Noble, 2 mills, 5 years, $170,000; Paulding, 2 mills, 10 years, $760,000; Perry, 2 mills, 5 years, $370,000; Richland, 1 mill, 5 years, $510,000; Seneca, 1½ mills, 5 years, $607,500; Shelby, 2 mills, 5 years, $480,000; Warren, 2 mills, 5 years, $400,000; Wood, 1 mill, 4 years, $388,000; Vinton, 2 mills, 5 years, $140,000; Wyandot, 1 mill, 3 years, $138,000.

REVOLT AGAIN IMPENDING IN MEXICAN ARMY

Movement May Force Calles to Give Pledges To Officers

Revolt Threatens to Keep President From Taking Office

El Paso, Tex., Nov. 8.—Mexico was threatened today with a military revolt which may prevent President-elect Plutarco Elias Calles from taking office unless he gives certain pledges to leading army officers, the ring leaders of the anti-Calles movement. It was learned from documents smuggled out of Mexico City to avoid censorship.

If the revolt comes to an actual head, the military chiefs may succeed without causing any bloodshed. The movement according to reliable sources, does not involve civilians, but is being engineered entirely by army officers.

Plans for the uprising have been completed in detail. But before taking any definite step, a revolutionary committee will wait upon President-elect Calles to ask him for satisfactory "declarations of security." If the president-elect consents, there will be no rising; if he does not, everything is in readiness for the blow.

Calles is now on his way to the capital from the United States. It is asserted by persons who have studied conditions in Mexico that nearly the whole army is against Calles or at least the most powerful of the leaders.

Flying Ex-Congressman Must Pay Damages.

MANUEL HERRICK

Manuel Herrick, who described himself as "The Flying Daredevil of Congress," when he was a member from Oklahoma, has been ordered by the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia to pay $7,500 to Miss Ethel Crane, a Government clerk of Washington, who alleged malicious slander following her refusal to marry him. The next day he was granted a verdict of 1 cent against her for breach of promise.

TAX QUESTION NOT TO BE CONSIDERED AT SHORT SESSION

Bradford Named Member Of President's Agricultural Commission.

Washington, Nov. 8.—Reports that the taxation question will be reopened at the short session of congress are discredited here.

President Coolidge, it became known, does not think it advisable to reopen the problem until the new congress convenes. In this connection it is announced that the president does not contemplate calling an extra session after March 4. Farm legislation and the annual appropriation bills will comprise the principal subjects of congressional action at the short session of congress, which convenes the first Monday in December.

The personnel of the commission to inquire into agricultural conditions was announced by the president. The commissions is expected to formulate a program for permanent improvement of agriculture through legislation and otherwise. Members of the commission as announced by the president are: Robert D. Carey of Carey, Wyo., chairman; O. E. Bradfute, president of the American Farm Bureau federation, of Xenia, O.; Charles S. Barrett, chairman of the National Board of Farm Organizations, of Union City, Ga.; Louis J. Taber, master of the National Grange, of Columbus, O.; Ralph P. Merritt of Fresno, Cal., president of the Sun-Maid Raisin Growers; R. W. Thatcher, director of the New York Western station, of Geneva, N. Y.; W. C. Coffey, dean of the college of agriculture and director of the experiment station of the University of Minnesota, and Fred H. Bixby, president of the American National Live Stock association, of Long Beach, Cal.

It was stated the president believes the men selected are representative of farmers generally and well acquainted with agricultural conditions. As a result, it is believed a program may be outlined by them without undue delay and probably in time for action upon any proposal requiring legislative action at the short session of the present congress.

Mrs. Ferguson's Majority. Dallas, Tex., Nov. 8.—Complete returns from 103 counties show the following totals for governor: Dr. George C. Butte (R.), 143,003; Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson (D.), 179,533. These figures give Mrs. Ferguson a majority of 36,530 votes.

Senator Lodge suffered a stroke last Wednesday noon and since has been in an unconscious condition most of the time.

A bulletin issued at 9 o'clock this morning by Dr. John H. Cunningham and Dr. Frederick Winslow said: "No real change during the night. The general outlook must be considered favorable."

Dr. Cunningham added that he expected Senator Lodge to live tonight and probably tomorrow.

LEGION HEAD IS IN ACCORD WITH PLANS

Indianapolis, Nov. 8.—In a letter to President Coolidge James A. Drain, national commander of the American Legion, expresses himself as being in accord with the president's views that Armistice day celebrations should emphasize the need of permanent world peace. Drain also declared the legion was in favor of "the erection of some form of competent world court," in order to establish justice between nations.

Commander Drain's letter was in reply to one from President Coolidge on Nov. 1, in which the legion chief was asked to assist in emphasizing on Armistice day the necessity of world peace. "The legion will emphasize on Armistice day," Drain's letter said, "the substance of your words that 'humanity has more reason for unity than for discord.' On Armistice day and all other days it has and will, at home and abroad, work in practicable ways to make a reality of the thought these words suggest."

CONFESSION OF COMPANIONS ENDS TEN DAY SEARCH FOR SMALL BOY

Youths Lead Police to Body They Had Thrown In Brush Pile—Youngsters 9 to 12 Years Old May Be Held For Homicide.

New York, Nov. 8.—Four boys from the same Boy Scout troop just about old enough to take their first interest in outdoors, guns and hunting, waited today in the children's home in Brooklyn for arraignment on the charge of killing their playmate Ernest Schwarzer, 13.

The confession and aid in finding the body in the brush-filled pit where the terror stricken boys had thrown it, ended a ten day hunt by detectives, an airplane, neighbors, schoolchildren and firemen of the Brooklyn truck company of which the boy's father was a member.

If their ages permit, Captain Gallagher said today, charges of homicide will be filed against Ernest's four companions.

Arthur and Harold Megan, 12 and 11; Charles Hirschfeld, 9 and Adam Rotunda, 12, whose confessions were obtained by the promise of all the ice cream that little Adam Rotunda could eat.

The four lads were known to have been with Ernest just before he disappeared but steadfastly maintained he left them to look after his muskrat traps in Cowkill swamp. They were energetic in the search, consistently misleading the detectives and volunteer searchers.

When it was learned that a 22 calibre revolver was carried by the five when they started for the swamp, Captains Gallagher and Graham questioned the boys more vigorously. Arthur Megan owned it.

The boys were taken to the swamp and asked to point the direction Ernest went when he left them. They disagreed and Captain Gallagher told Rotunda he was going to walk him to Sing Sing. Adam said he would not go until he had something to eat. He was told he would get nothing until he confessed but that could have anything he wanted after he told the whole story.

"Ice cream?" he asked. "All you can eat," Gallagher promised. After two plates of strawberry and chocolate, while a third was waiting until he finished his story, Adam told how Ernest was shot when Arthur Megan laid the gun down on a stump. The bullet passed through the boy's temple.

These leaders, who incidentally are in the minority, point out that by concentrating on electing their friends in the old parties, Senator Brookhart, for example, they can do more in a shorter space of time than by fighting the old parties with another party.

PAPERS WITHHELD IN FEDERAL SUIT TO CANCEL LEASES

Los Angeles, Nov. 8.—At the trial of the government's suit to cancel leases and contracts held by the Pan-American Petroleum and Transport company in the Elk Hills naval oil reserve, a communication from Curtis D. Wilbur, secretary of the navy, was introduced by the defense, stating that he is not at liberty to furnish the court certain confidential papers subpoenaed by the defense.

The communication was an answer to a subpoena served on the secretary to produce certain records and secret plans of the navy department to be used in evidence in the suit. Secretary Wilbur's letter, in part, said: "All aforesaid papers being found among the official files and records of the department of the navy are of a confidential nature, containing matters of importance to the nation, the disclosure of which would in his (Wilbur's) opinion be injurious to the public interest and would prove prejudicial to the government."

A concurring opinion from Charles E. Hughes, secretary of state, also was presented, which, in part, stated: "I concur in the view of the secretary of the navy that the disclosure of the contents of the papers would be incompatible with the public interest."

CHARGES ELECTION FRAUDS IN PROTESTING SEATING OF CONGRESSMAN-ELECT BURTON

Cleveland, O., Nov. 8.—Allenging that gross and repeated election frauds were perpetrated in the 22nd Ohio congressional district, in which Congressman Theodore E. Burton, temporary chairman of the Republican national committee, last June and one of the leaders of the house was elected by a plurality of more than 50,000, Albert F. Coyle, progressive candidate, today mailed to the clerk of the house at Washington a formal protest against the seating of Burton in the 69th congress.

Coyle asserted that he had already had proof of fraudulent practices in more than fifty precincts and that he was now engaged in reckoning returns from other precincts throughout the district.

He declared that in one instance sixty votes were cast for him but that Germany Wants Its Colonies Restored. London, Nov. 8.—A representative of the German government has arrived at Geneva, Switzerland, to urge the permanent mandate commission of the league of nations to arrange for the convocation of a colonial conference for consideration of the question of restoring to Germany some of the former German territory now under mandate. Kamerun, West Africa, which was divided between the British and French after the war, is administered under a mandate, which contains provisions directed against slavery, forced labor and abuses of the traffic in arms and spirituous liquors. Fifty thousand acres of valuable plantations in Kamerun are to be auctioned in London on Nov. 24 by order of the late government.

LEADERS STILL UNWILLING TO BURY ALL HOPE

Future of Movement Will Be Decided at Two Meetings Scheduled.

Minority Wants to Work From Within Both Old Parties, It is Said

Washington, Nov. 8.—The future of the LaFollette third party as a factor in American politics is distinctly uncertain—this much can be stated on the authority of some of those most intimately connected with it.

None of the little group of leaders who fought—and went down—with the Wisconsin insurgent in the campaign just ended are yet willing to bury their hopes of a strong, independent and liberal third party. On the contrary they are more determined than ever that the efforts and money expended in this campaign shall not have been in vain.

"Going, of course, we are going to." That is the answer of William H. Johnston, chairman of the conference for progressive political action, who has been one of the big labor leaders behind the LaFollette movement, to all questions.

But as yet their plans during the four years that must elapse before there is another chance, are extremely vague. They will be worked out in the months immediately ahead. Two big conferences, one to be held in December, and another in January, will largely determine their future course.

There are some labor leaders identified with the LaFollette movement, who feel that the independent cause can best be served by abandoning any efforts to form a rebel third party. Their idea is to "bore from within." Both old parties to secure labor's ends along the lines of economic legislation.

These leaders, who incidentally are in the minority, point out that by concentrating on electing their friends in the old parties, Senator Brookhart, for example, they can do more in a shorter space of time than by fighting the old parties with another party.

In the end, it was said today by those high in the councils of the movement, the situation will be met by continuing at least the framework of the third party which was constructed this year by so much effort. By keeping intact the skeleton of a party they at least would be assured four years hence by getting their party nominees on the ballots, something they were not able to do this year in many states.

The conference for progressive political action will meet in Washington a week after congress convenes. It probably will endorse the existing party frame work and set a January date for a convention. This convention also will endorse the third party.

The American Federation of Labor meets in El Paso November 14, and it, too, probably will endorse the third party, although there will be some opposition to this.

But thereafter plans are uncertain. They will depend to a large extent upon future events. It is yet too early, leaders said, today, to forecast with any degree of definiteness the future course of the movement.

MOTION OF PONZI AGAIN OVERRULED

Boston, Nov. 8.—Judge Bishop overruled the motion of Charles Ponzi, who went to prison when his financial operations collapsed in 1920, to have the five indictments against him quashed. Ponzi was placed on trial in Suffolk county court for larceny of $10,000 from investors.

Acting as his own counsel, Ponzi, who was released from Plymouth county jail last August after completing a term as federal prisoner, made his motion on the ground that he has been tried on similar charges and acquitted and that his constitutional rights precluded him being placed in jeopardy again. Charles Rittenhouse, public accountant, testified that an examination of Ponzi's books disclosed a total of $9,582,000 had been paid to Ponzi and $9,137,100 had been deposited in banks, a difference of approximately $450,000.

To Consider Legislation.

Cleveland, Nov. 8.—Chief executives and representatives of 20 railroad brotherhoods and affiliated organizations met here today "to discuss the Howell-Barkley bill and decide on future course of action." The bill seeks to abolish the railroad labor board. It is the first bill on the calendar when congress convenes.

Levy Fails; School Closed. Springfield, O., Nov. 8.—Vacation from now to next September is the lot of 267 students of Pleasant township, Clarke county, after failure by 40 votes to get a special school tax levy passed. Superintendent O. T. Hawke says he can't find teachers who will work for nothing, so the schoolhouse closes its doors.

DONAHEY MAJORITY IN COUNTY IS FIRST SINCE 1908 VOTING

The old election "dope bucket" was upset in Greene County when a Democratic candidate for governor succeeded in nailing out Harry L. Davis, Republican candidate for the first time in sixteen years, in the election Tuesday.

A majority of re-election dopesters had practically conceded a large plurality to Davis over Vic Donahey in the county, but these forecasts received a rude shock when the total vote was compiled Wednesday.

Incidentally, it has been sixteen long years since a Democratic candidate for the position of chief executive in the state, received a majority over the G. O. P. candidate in the county. Back in 1908, when the "wet and dry" question was the leading issue of the race, the Democratic candidate, James Patterson, received a majority over M. T. Herrick, his Republican opponent in Greene County. Patterson died a month after taking office. Matt Denver, Wilmington Democrat, was given a majority in the county for Congress, several years later.

The Republican presidential incumbent, Calvin Coolidge, received the largest plurality in the county this election of any other Republican candidate, with the exception of Harvey Elam, clerk of courts, who was elected without opposition, receiving the high vote.

Coolidge's plurality in the county was larger approximately 1,300 votes than the Harding majority over Cox, the Democratic candidate, four years ago. Harding's plurality then was 4,584 over his opponent.

In the governor race two years ago, Carmi A. Thompson, the Republican candidate, received a majority over Vic Donahey, incumbent, of 2,808 votes.

The big upset in the county was attributed to the unrepresented "scratching" of ballots by the voters, in the gubernatorial race.

Is Starvation Wreathing Life from Men and Women of Today?

Grave Conclusions Are Drawn as Result of Startling Revelations; 40% of All School Children Said to be Under-Nourished.

Physicians and Other Thinkers See in Pure Cod Liver Oil Blessed Relief to Young and Old Who Are Underfed.

Greatest of All Builders Now May Be Had in New Easy-to-Take Form Called Coco-Cod.

Is starvation gnawing at the roots of our civilization, sapping the vitality of men, woman and child? It would seem so, according to scientists, who draw grave conclusions from the results of a recent investigation in our public schools.

Among all students examined, fully 40 per cent were found to be victims of mal-nutrition and vitamin deficiency—literally starving in the midst of plenty. Physicians and other constructive thinkers see in this condition the reason for much of the ill health of our adult population. Men and women are pale, nervous, broken-down shadows of what they might be, simply because their systems have been starved from early youth. They need the strength and vigor of good rich, red blood—the kind that comes from ample vitamins content in the food.

And they can have it! For in this emergency doctors are turning to pure Norwegian cod liver oil and successfully combating this newly discovered evil through an intensive feeding or building process. However, in youngsters and even among grown-ups, the taste of cod liver oil has prevented its wide use.

Now, by a fortunate circumstance, there has been recently brought to public notice pure cod liver oil in a new, easy-to-take form—and with the addition of A, B, C and D vitamins. Leading medical lights declare it a blessing to men, women and children who are under-nourished because their systems do not derive from their food the vitamins needed to build sound, firm flesh, calm nerves and pure blood.

CocoCod, as its name indicates, has the pleasant taste of rich cocoa. Children welcome it and thrive on it. It is truly amazing even in old age how it quickens the eliminative organs, builds greater nerve force and sends rich, red blood pulsing through bodies which formerly dragged under the weight of years. It contains in concentrated form those vital elements which our modern cooking and baking have taken from our food, such as the vitamins found in spinach and cabbage, rice polishings, eggs and yeast—all blended in pure Norwegian cod liver oil and rendered palatable by the addition of rich cocoa. It cod liver oil at last to come into its own as a means of rescue from threatened starvation of our race? Physicians and teachers believe that it is, and are advising mothers to give their children the benefit of this strength-insuring food, and not to deny themselves its healthful influence.

Local druggists have arranged to distribute CocoCod and, like our physicians and teachers, have been fully advised concerning its value in the present emergency.—Adv.

A FIRST NATIONAL ATTRACTION

Test It on the Road For Quietness and Ease

Probably you never imagined a four-cylinder car could be built that would operate at all speeds practically without vibration.

The good Maxwell does.

Probably, also, you never expected you could drive a four-cylinder car all day in town or across country without fatigue.

You can with the good Maxwell.

Those are some of the reasons why it is a matter of wise judgment to include a complete demonstration of the good Maxwell before you come to a decision about a new car.

The splendid appearance of the good Maxwell, its fine finish, appointments and equipment you can see; the story its owners tell of care-free, economical service you can hear; but performance and riding qualities you must experience and feel to know.

We are pleased to extend the convenience of time-payments. Ask about Maxwell's attractive plan.

Health Hints by the Father of Physical Culture

The physical man from birth to death is built, repaired and maintained by the activities of the stomach, and the quality of the man largely depends upon the quality of his digestion. A well built and well repaired machine will last longer than a poorly built one, and just as surely will the body that is well-built and repaired by a sound and well cared for stomach last longer than one which is less well built and cared for. Long life and a vigorous old age perhaps are more dependent upon a good digestion than upon any other single factor.

These statements are quite obvious and indisputable, but there are widely different ideas as to what constitutes a good digestion and how it should be cared for. Gravid of the popular errors concerning the stomach is that its efficiency is to be judged by the abuse that it will stand. The stomach that will dispose of a large quantity of food, or digest foods that are difficult to digest, may be called a "strong" stomach; but such a stomach may be the very cause of its owner's illness and an untimely grave. This sort of digestive strength invites abuse, if not checked by intelligent restraint, and such continued abuse will result either in a premature breakdown of the digestive apparatus itself, or in a continued overindulgence that will break down the kidneys or liver, or cause obesity, rheumatism, dropsy, or gout.

The stomach that will contribute to long life is the one that will send forth the call of appetite for only the kind and quantity of food needed to maintain and prolong life. The happy medium of stomach power is perhaps the safest one a man can have. A strong stomach, the kind that will stand abuse, would seem, if never abused, the more desirable, for there would always be a reserve power of digestion. But in practice we are all creatures of appetite, and few of us can fully control our food intake by purely intellectual guidance. It is for this reason that the man who is dyspeptically inclined so often outlives his neighbor with the lusty appetite. The weak digestion may be troublesome, but it must be carefully handled, and so many outlast the strong.

A COMRADE'S GIFT

We are living in an age of great benevolences. Far more than in former days, it is being impressed upon the minds of the rich that wealth is to be regarded as a trust, and to be applied to high purposes and noble aims. Human sympathy and an appreciation of our duties toward others less fortunate in the struggle for existence, are having their way. Wealth for its own sake is coming more and more to be valued in proportion to the opportunities it affords us of doing good to others.

It is this spirit that ex-Congressman Charles D. Haines of New York and his wife, have moulded their lives. Their great opportunity came when, on July 14th last, they deeded a large estate at Altamonte Springs, in one of the most salubrious sections of Florida, to be the site of a National Home for Newspaper Men. Mr. Haines' attachment to the journalistic profession dates from his young manhood, and he has owned three daily and eight weekly publications. Having ample opportunities for observation, he saw that newspaper men as a class give much to the world and receive but small recompense. Many having given the best that was in them have finally settled down to lives of penury.

"I have not wanted to give them a poorhouse or a charitable institution," Mr. Haines explains, "but I have wanted them to have a home where, when they are tired, they might come and be happy." Accordingly he has transferred toward this enterprise twenty acres of young groves running in one direction, and twenty more acres in another—all fine land. In the same generous spirit, Mrs. Haines gives them a clubhouse and buildings for entertainments, with twenty-seven acres adjoining. These gifts were accompanied by a check for $10,000 to start the project, and the donor added that he had $100,000 ready to turn over to the Home when it is established and fairly going. But this is not all. The rest of the estate and the buildings now upon it, he and his wife desire to retain during their lifetime; after which it is to be turned over for purposes of the Home, the whole extent of the land involved being about 700 acres. A number of buildings will go ultimately with this additional property to the Home.

The fine spirit in which this munificent gift is tendered the donor expresses in these words: "I am giving you this land—the Home and the land—without any strings attached. I want you to take it and make of it what use you can. I hope you will make of it a real Home for the retired and working newspapermen of the country." He makes it clear that he tenders this gift not as charity but "as a crown of laurels for labor well done—a retreat at even-tide, after the heat and toil of the day."—From Christian Herald of Nov. 8.

IMBRIE SLAYERS EXECUTED IN PRESENCE OF U. S. ENVOYS

Execution by the Persian Government of Seyid Hussien, ring-leader of the mob which murdered American Vice Consul Imbrie in Teheran, was reported officially Monday to our State Department.

Another man was executed for the crime at the same time. The death sentences were carried out after the Washington Government had insisted that the two men must receive the extreme penalty, despite a decision by the Persian Cabinet to commute their sentences. A third man found guilty and sentenced to death was executed some time ago.

A score of members of the mob which killed Imbrie have received lesser sentences.

The Persian Government also has completed other phases of the program it laid down for itself at the time of the murder. It has made substantial payments to Imbrie's widow and has professed its readiness to meet the entire cost of bringing Imbrie's body home for burial. Under the insistent pressure of the Washington Government, the Persian army colonel in command of the forces in Teheran, which should have protected Imbrie, has been placed under arrest preparatory to trial, although original action taken in his case was merely to relieve him of his command.

As was done in the case of the first execution, the American Legation staff in Teheran was requested by the Persian authorities to witness the execution of the two men who were put to death by a military firing squad.

A REAL "FORTY-NINER"

Doctor Wilfred Grenfell says that with proper care of the human mechanism we ought to live to be 125. Evidently, then, the life of ex-Senator Cornelius Cole, who has just passed away at the age of a little over 102, was cut off prematurely. This oldest graduate of Wesleyan at 100 crossed the Continent from California to attend the commencement exercises of his college. A friend of Lincoln, he heard the Gettysburg address delivered, and conversed with the martyred President on the day of his assassination. A real forty-niner, he mingled with the Vigilantes, used the pony express, took pot-luck and incurred field hazards with the placer miners. He went to Philadelphia to attend as a delegate the first Republican convention that nominated Fremont for the presidency. All told his long term of years included as great a variety of experience as has fallen to the lot of all but the most exceptional Americans.

THE GOLFER'S WAIL

Oh, I can shoot a hole in par,
Some of my drives are very good,
My mashie shots successful are,
I'm not afraid to use the wood;
I have been out in thirty-nine
This year, I'd say, three times or four,
But still I make this doleful whine:
I never get a medal score!

At match play I can hold my own
In fact at times I'm hard to beat,
The golfers I have overthrown
All said my work was rather neat;
Full many a day I've known the thrill
Of drives two hundred yards and more,
I think I've learned the game, but still
I never get a medal score!

When I review at night my card,
Six lovely fours I smile to see,
And two of them exceedingly hard
As all who play the course agree;
And here I note a "birdie" two
And there a five worth gloating o'er,
But there's a curse on all I do,
I never get a medal score.

Somewhere along the course it seems
It is my lot to take an eight,
Some times a nine wrecks all my dreams

And leaves me sad and desolate;
Today I had ten strokes where I
Holed out in three the day before,
Oh, how much longer must I cry:
I never get a medal score!

Fricassee Chicken	with Dumplings
Potatoes	Fruit Salad
Chocolate Pudding	Coffee
Supper	Corned Beef Hash
Pickles	Hot Biscuits

Not only each year, but almost every season brings some new ideas concerning house furnishings. Here are some of the latest.

Silk Rubber Curtains for the Kitchen: I have recently seen these in two brides' houses. They were straight, narrow side curtains 15 inches wide, falling from the top of the window to the sill. An inch wide hem had been made at the bottom by the sewing machine and a narrow turn-under finished the sides of each curtain. Small brass rings were caught here and there along the top of the silk rubber, to be slipped onto a brass rod. The color was grass green. A strip of light green linoleum, "pinked" at the edges and about eight inches deep, ran across the top of the window as a valance, covering the brass rod at the top of the curtains.

This silk rubber material comes 33 inches wide and, at most department stores, costs about $4.50 a yard. One-half of this width (that is, 16 1/2 inches) makes a curtain to go at one side of the window. The linoleum costs about $3.25 (at some stores) per square yard. This makes the curtains expensive—but what a comfort they would be!

Tapestry Cover for a Console Table: In the past we have been satisfied with small dollies of all shapes for our console tables. Now interior decorators suggest that we shape our dollies to follow the lines of the table-top, but one inch smaller. To make one of the new covers at home, simply buy a remnant of tapestry, cut it half-moon shape like your table-top (only have it small enough so that one inch of the polished surface will show all around the cover) and finish edges with gilt braid, lining the little cover with soft flannel.

Colored Voile Bed Covers: These are becoming very popular. Buy old-rose voile 36 inches wide (assuming that your bed is a yard-wide single or twin bed). Use two yards of this material to cover top-surface of bed. Sew a three-inch wide strip to either side of this piece. Add to the three-inch strip sew a 16-inch wide which will reach to the floor on either side of the

THE "DAD" JOB

The greatest job in the world is to be a mother. Next to that is to be a father.

I have the second greatest job in the world. And I think I might well call it a job de luxe for I am the father of twin boys.

One of my lady correspondents became rather disconcerted when she heard of this, for previously she had imagined that instead of being 40-odd in years and the father of twin boys, she was writing to a patriarch like Moses who didn't get nervous or disturbed when tears were wept upon his shoulder.

A month ago I left home with my boys for a 1,500 mile trip by motor. It rained some days, but to us the sun was always out.

Boys as 17 are often untamed. And as high as 40 in age they show earmarks of the wild. Every day was an adventure. One of the boys always called me "Master." For what reason I know not. But I was, nevertheless, pleased and honored. The other always called me "Dad."

Many hotel men were glad when we departed. They said they rented rooms—not gymnasiums!

There were hardships. Early and late meals—sometimes skipped ones, and long drives at night. But never a complaint. When I was 17 I longed for a father who was 17; so then and there I determined to be a 17-year old father myself some day. And that's why this job of being a "dad" right now has more thrills and adventure to it than anything I have done or ever hope to do.

At the age of 46, to be exact, I sometimes give each of these boys a set of tennis—if they earn it; otherwise not. And we box and wrestle and miss things up generally.

We confide our troubles to each other. Three heads are much better than one. And two young heads are often better than one old one.

A lot of you fathers are missing a grand circus such as Barnum never pulled. These boys are to be my future partners in business. They are my pals now.

Leland expects to go to Yale. George, Jr., to Dartmouth. They both play football. I saw by the papers recently that the game between Yale and Dartmouth ended in a tie!

I like the "dad" job. You will if you do it as you do your other big jobs.

LESSON NO. 6

LIGHTING THE DINING ROOM

In some ways the dining room is just the opposite of the living room. The living room has many different uses, but the dining room is seldom used except at meal times. In the living room the furniture is moved about and changed, but in the dining room the arrangement of furniture rarely changes.

The dining table is in the center of the room, and it is the center of interest. It should be the most brightly lighted object in the whole room. There are a number of different kinds of fixtures which may be hung from the ceiling to provide good lighting, and almost all of them may be used improperly to provide bad lighting.

(C) the glare from the bulb is directly in the eyes of everyone seated at the table, but if it is put down closer to the table, as at (D) the fixture completely hides the bulb, and we have excellent dining room lighting without glare. For most fixtures it is best to see that the bottom of the shades is not more than 36 inches above the table for (A) and 24 inches above the table for (D). Where candle fixtures are used, shades are needed not only to protect the eyes from the glare, but to reflect some of the light which would otherwise go up to the ceiling or down on the table.

The fixtures over the table will

THE CENTER CEILING FIXTURE

Whatever the kind of fixture, it is important that the eyes of anyone seated at the table be protected against the glare of the bulbs which furnish the light. There are two ways to do this. 1. Be sure that the shades are long enough, and of the right shape. For example, the next picture shows a fixture on which one bulb (A) is well shaded and the other bulb (B) is badly shaded.

The shade which is narrower at the bottom protects the eyes of the person at the table. 2. For a given shade, be sure the fixture is low enough over the table (but not so low as to be in the way or make it impossible to see the person sitting opposite).

Now look at the fixture in (C) and (D). When this fixture is as high above the table as it is at need bulbs with a total of from 100 to 200 watts.

OTHER LIGHTING
Bracket fixtures on the wall and candlesticks on the buffet may be used to add decoration, provided they are well shaded and are not so bright as to be annoying or to produce glare and eye strain. When they are used, the bulbs should not be larger than 15 or 25 watts.

Convenience outlets should be installed for electric appliances. If used on the dining table, a convenience outlet may be placed in the floor under the table, or on the under side of the table itself, so that the unsightly cord need not hang from a bulb socket and cause one part of the lighting fixture to be dark. Duplex convenience outlets which permit the use of two appliances may be installed for practically the same cost as the older style single outlets.

REUTINGER HELPS CAPITAL DEFEAT WILMINGTON TEAM

Edwin Reutinger, Xenia, student at Capital University, former Central High School football star and playing his first year of college football, again proved a life saver Friday afternoon in the Wilmington-Capital game to the Katherman coached team, when his run of fifty-five yards over the Wilmington goal line after picking up a blocked punt with only nine minutes to play enabled Capital to register a 7 to 6 victory over Wilmington in Capital's home coming game at Columbus. The 7 to 6 margin was made possible when Bernihr made good the extra point by way of the place kick route.

The victory proved a costly one to Capital however, as Dowden regular right guard was hurt on the play, after blocking the punt that allowed Reutinger to scoop up the oval and scamper the remaining distance to the goal line from mid-field for the points that proved the winners.

Reutinger has earned a regular place on the Columbus eleven, and the fifty-five yard run for a touchdown Friday, marked the second time this year he has made a sensational play. In the Kenyon game several weeks ago, Capital's only score was made possible, when Reutinger intercepted a pass and squirmed and dodged his way down the field for seventy yards and a touchdown. Capital lost the game however.

Wilmington scored in the first quarter, on a series of line smashes and a triple pass, but try for goal was missed. Dowden, Reutinger and Spindel were the shining lights for Capital on the line, while Seifert and Braun were the most ground gainers in the backfield. The Fisher brothers in the backfield and Nowald, Barnes and Stevens on the line were the best bets for the Wilmington crew.

COMMISSIONERS AT 0 DDS WITH PROPERTY OWNERS MAY CHANGE PIKE PAVING PLANS

Unless property owners along Inter-County Highway, No. 6, the Cincinnati Pike, come down off their "high horse," and agree to accept less damages for about seven and one half feet of their property on each side of the road, than they are now asking, the repair and macadam work which is scheduled to be done to the pike, from the corporation line of Xenia to Mount Holly, in Warren County, will not be started in the spring of next year, the Greene County Commissioners warned in an ultimatum served Friday.

Instead of remodeling that pike, the dirt pike connecting Xenia with Fairfield, which has been recently recognized as an inter-county highway, may be macadamized next year. Property holders along the latter road have urged the County Commissioners to remodel the Fairfield Pike, a distance of about ten miles from Xenia, and as the federal offer of an appropriation of $72,000 to aid the state and county in remodeling the Cincinnati Pike, only holds good for a certain length of time, commissioners are thinking seriously of transferring the appropriation to the Fairfield Pike.

Providing property owners along the Cincinnati Pike agree to come to terms, the Fairfield Pike project will probably be dispensed with. The state law provides that all inter-county highways, shall be sixty feet wide at the minimum, and as the Cincinnati Pike is now but about forty-five feet wide, in order to remodel it, about fifteen feet of land must be bought from property adjoining the road, to comply with the state law and widen the pike.

The engineering and surveying work has been completed by the county on the pike, and everything is in readiness to begin work in the spring, the only hitch in the proceedings being the reluctance of the adjacent land holders to dispose of their property at the amount offered. The cost of remodeling either pike, under discussion, would probably not exceed several hundred thousand dollars, according to the county commissioners, and with both the state and federal aid promised, the project should go through nicely.

OLD MAN WINTER IS DOING HIS STUFF ON WINGS OF COLD WIND

Overcoats, mufflers and gloves were in vogue late Friday afternoon and Saturday morning when a bitter cold wind coming out of the Northwest, where regions are experiencing light snow fall, carried with it near freezing temperatures, and swept the Miami Valley and Xenia.

The frigid wind Friday night served as an advance messenger of the forth-coming cold spell which will cause flimsy garments to be cast aside by the most optimistic persons, to be replaced by heavier apparel.

When the cold wave hits in its full strength it will force the mercury below the 30 degree mark it was predicted Friday by various weather prophets. The first decline in temperature was noticed Friday when the wind shifted from the southwest to the northeast. Temperatures dropped to 40 degrees Saturday morning.

FIRE DESTROYS BIG BARN ON FARM OWNED BY MRS. MARY BAIN

Fanned by the unusually high wind Friday, a large barn, on a farm owned by Mrs. Mary S. Bain, of this city, on a side road between Spring Valley and New Burlington, was completely destroyed by fire with most of its contents Friday afternoon about 1 o'clock, entailing a loss estimated between $6,000 and $8,000, part of which was covered by insurance.

Albert Lumpkin, tenant on the farm, with several farm hands, were in the barn at the time husking corn, and declared that the flames seemed to spring up all around them from the floor. Lumpkin was unable to place the cause of the fire Saturday morning.

Farm hands succeeded in getting the live stock out of the burning building but all farm implements together with several cribs of fodder, were entirely destroyed.

A bucket brigade was formed when aid was obtained from New Burlington and prevented the fire from spreading to the grass and woods. The nearby farm house was left untouched by the flames because of the wind which blew the flames in the opposite direction.

FARM BUREAU HEAD AGAINST GAS TAX

W. B. Bryson, president of the Greene County Farm Bureau presented a resolution, voicing the sentiment of the rural districts in regard to the gasoline tax and license fee, on motor vehicles at the four-county Farm Bureau meeting in Dayton, recently. Greene, Montgomery, Fayette and Clinton County Farm Bureaus were represented by their presidents, secretaries and county agents, at the meeting.

The resolution presented by Mr. Bryson, and which was passed unanimously, was as follows: "Resolved, that it is the sense of this meeting, that we favor a gasoline tax and a reasonable reduction of the license fee on all motor vehicles and that we ask our state organization to use every effort through its lobby to have our Legislature bring about such legislation."

Opposition of farmers and rural organization to the proposed Child Labor law was also brought out at the meeting but no action taken.

PAPPAS ANXIOUS TO MEET BROOKS AGAIN

Smarting from a defeat at the hands of Bill Brooks, Wilmington, in a wrestling match staged at the Eagles' Hall recently, Tom Pappas, of Springfield, former Xenian, and well known heavyweight wrestler, will attempt to stage a comeback Monday night, against his rival.

These two mat men will hook up Monday night at the Eagles' Hall in the main bout of the program. The match is to be a finish affair, to go two out of three falls. The men will wrestle at 168 and 158 pounds.

The semi-final match between George Gatsoff, of Massillon, and Harry Kilonis, of Norfolk, Va., will also go two out of three falls, and this match should rival the main go in interest to the fans, because the mat ability of the two principals is unquestioned. The men are welterweights, and will wrestle at about 148 pounds.

The curtain raiser between Kid Black, of Springfield, and Wilbur Strobridge, of this city, is a lightweight affair, and is scheduled to go fifteen minutes to a decision. This bout will be an amateur affair.

Gatsoff, the popular welterweight, has been suffering from boil attacks at intervals, but announces that he is in perfect condition for the Monday fracas and will be ready at the song. The match is scheduled to start at 8:15 o'clock with popular prices prevailing.

CENTRAL OFFENSE AGAIN OUTPLAYS GRID OPPONENTS BUT GREENFIELD HIGH WINS

History failed to repeat itself Friday afternoon at Cox Memorial Athletic Field.

Greenfield McClain High, succeeded in breaking the jinx that Xenia has held over it for ten long years, and Central High School was forced to bow in defeat to its traditional rivals by a score of 18 to 8, in a game featured by cold, drizzly bleak weather and the locals' splendid comeback toward the close of the contest, which earned eight points for the blue and white, eleven. Incidentally it was Central's sixth straight setback of the disastrous 1924 season.

Dame Fortune appears to have deserted Central's gridgers, and this year, hard luck has been camping on the locals' trail. Xenia might have won Friday's game, if frequent fumbles in the first quarter which resulted in a Greenfield touchdown, could have been avoided, and if it had not become so dark in the last half, that a trick play by Greenfield, was allowed to escape unnoticed, with the result that Tackle Glaze, for Greenfield, was able to scamper seventy yards down the field for Greenfield's first touchdown. Spahr fumbled the kickoff and a Greenfield man recovered. Horner recovered a Greenfield fumble a minute later, but after failure to gain on the next down, Towles fumbled and the ball was recovered by an opposing linesman, giving the ball to Greenfield on Xenia's twenty yard line. Xenia was penalized fifteen yards, and full back O'Dell smashed over the line on the next play. Try for goal failed.

Two passes and as many penalties gave Greenfield its second touchdown in the second period, Xenia was penalized twice for off sides, a pass to Mosbarger gained five yards, and put the ball on Xenia's twenty yard line, from where Greene hurled a short pass to Mosbarger who traveled the remaining ten yards to the goal unmolested. O'Dell's try for extra point via the drop kick route, was wide.

A long pass, Boxwell to Towles, was good for twenty-five yards near the close of the first half and put the ball well into Greenfield territory, but the period ended before Xenia could follow up its advantage.

The third quarter was featureless, as the play zig-zagged back and forth between the thirty yard lines in the first quarter, but near the start of the final quarter, Xenia was not to be denied, and after a Greenfield fumble had pushed back the ball to the five yard line, a bad pass from center was again fumbled by a Greenfield back, who fell on the pigskin back of his own goal line for a safety that netted Xenia two points, and its first score.

At this point, after the ball had been put in play by Greenfield on its thirty yard line, the field became so dark, that trick play worked to perfection. Tackle Blaze was called back, and Greene, who received the ball from center, handed it to a right guard, who in turn passed the ball to Blaze, with the result that Blaze, undetected, trotted seventy yards down the field for a touchdown. The play, which fooled Xenia, also baffled Washington C. H., this season it was said, and has since been christened "the sleeper." The try for goal failed.

Greenfield kicked off following the touchdown, and after Xenia failed to gain, Zell made a perfect kick to the Greenfield four yard line. Greenfield's attempt to punt out of danger, fell squarely into the waiting hands of Scurry, the big colored boy who had been injected into the game in the fourth quarter, and Scurry skirled along the side line, thirty yards for a touchdown. Boxwell's pass to Zell for the extra point was grounded.

As usual, Xenia outplayed its opponents in the matter of first downs, earning eleven to ten for Greenfield. Xenia made four first downs in the first quarter, three in the second, one in the third and three in the fourth. Greenfield earned three first downs in the initial period, the same number in the second, one in the third and three in the final quarter.

Towles and Spahr, sparked in the backfield for the locals, and Captain Zell, although handicapped by a broken shoulder, entered the fray and played a whirlwind game. Boxwell showed capable judgment in calling the signals and Holton also played a fine defensive game.

A high wind swept the field throughout the game and made fumble ing not infrequent, to which cause may be attributed Greenfield's first touchdown in the opening period.

For Greenfield, Greene at quarter, O'Dell at full and Mosbarger at right end, were thorns in Central's side, and these lads contributed largely to Xenia's defeat.

Central clearly outplayed its opponents in the second half, holding Greenfield to six points, while the local gridgers amassed eight counters.

IMPERIALS READY TO MEET EASTWOOD MERCHANTS SUNDAY

By L. J. WONES

The Imperial football team, with four straight victories to its credit and the ambition to finish the season with nothing but wins marked up in the record book will probably run against the toughest obstacle Sunday afternoon when the Eastwood Merchants of Dayton will invade Washington Park for the purpose of beating the warriors of the green and scarlet.

The Eastwoods have been going at a rapid clip all season having played all of their games on the road. To date they have met and defeated such teams as the Miamisburg Merchants, West Carrollton, which team they defeated by a 16 to 6 score and the Hamilton American Legion by a 2 to 0 score. Since their defeat at Springfield at the hands of the Bulldogs, Manager Smith has added several new players and at the present has a much stronger team than he had originally. The Merchants' lineup can be found in former college and high school stars and several independent lights.

Jagman, who plays quarter for the Dayton tribe is a former Steele star and played football under Bevan. E. Schoening, who plays full back, is a former Stivers star and was coached by Lingrel. Michel, a lineman played at the University of Dayton under Harry Baujan. Stegman and Newland, two 190 pound guards, starred at Indiana State Normal College last season. H. Hohm made the Denison squad three seasons ago while Wentz halfback played with the Miami University freshman squad. With these kind of gridgers on one team the Merchants are bound to be heard from before the game is many minutes old.

Among recruits who have entered the Imperials camp, is "Red" Randall, former Central High School and Wilmington College star half back. Randall will not doubt be on hand for Sunday's tilt and in the event that he does don the moleskins the local stock will take quite a boost. Another lad whom the writer is trying very hard to get, will make his debut at full. He is a triple threat man and if everything turns out all right, he will don an Imperial uniform. His name is being kept a secret. Lucas, Imperial tackle will also be back in the lineup.

A win for the Imperials will mean bigger and better games as the Hamilton American Legion manager has promised that he would give the local team a date in the event they could beat the Eastwoods. If the Smith outfit intends to win it had better keep an eagle eye on Paul Fuller who has scored five touchdowns for the locals in the four games he has played. Fuller is going good this year and he believes in adding up points rapidly. The game will get under way at 2:15 o'clock with competent officials in charge.

ARCADE BOWLERS BEAT QUOT TEAM

The Arcade bowling team succeeded in trimming a new organization of bowlers known as the Xenia Quoit Club bowling five Friday night at the Arcade alleys, two games out of three the quoit team winning the first game by forty-five pins.

The Arcade five rolled a total score of 2,255, forty pins better than the quoit team which compiled a total of 2,215 pins in three games.

Theatrical White, of the Quoit team, rolled high single game score of the evening, knocking over 186 pins, while Al Regan of the Arcade crowd, made high three game score, with games of 159, 168 and 184. Regan averaged 170.

The Quoit Club rolled games of 715, 742 and 758, while the Arcade bunch amassed totals of 670, 794 and 791.

Al Regan, Roy Hayward, Arch J. J. Bice and Raymond Cox, composed the Arcade team, while the Quoit Club aggregation was composed of William Smith, Howard Doney, R. E. Tull, Roy Arth and Theatrical White.

PROBE SHOW FIRE NOT INCENDIARY

After a thorough investigation of the circumstances that led to the fire that destroyed a warehouse and contents owned by Isaac C. Colp at the Xenia Supply Company on South Detroit Street, several days ago, causing damage estimated at $3,000, Fire Chief T. B. Claire announced that the warehouse was not set on fire as it was first believed but had been started within the building, from unknown causes.

Both the owner and Chief Claire thoroughly investigated the ruins, and finally came to the conclusion that matches which strewed the floor, had become ignited in some way, and after the piles of waste material had smoldered for a time, the flames leaped up in all parts of the building.

MODISH MITZI—News Item: Miss Mitzi Wore A Tunic Frock By Jay V. Jay

Mitzi wore a tunic when she went shopping. She wore a tunic of crepe satin combined with kasha cloth over a slip bordered with kasha to match. It had long, tight sleeves and was trimmed with a row of cloth-covered buttons.

Mitzi wore a tunic for long walks on her weekend in the country. It was a knitted tunic with a long taffeta tie. If a style is good for one costume it's good for more says Mitzi and so to prove it she went back to town and—

Mitzi wears a tunic everywhere she goes. Because the tunic is the newest of fall fashions and one can't have too much of a fashionable thing. This one, the prettiest of all, explains itself as you can see, it's very simply made.

WORKERS FOR RED CROSS HOLD MEET IN CEDARVILLE TWP.

A meeting of the Red Cross Roll Call workers in Cedarville township was called by the township chairman, Wilson W. Galloway for Wednesday afternoon.

Among the things done by the Red Cross in Cedarville township last year was the examination of the first grade in the school and calls made on the parents, the higher grades having been examined formerly.

Of the five cripples in the township three came to clinics. One received special treatment, one was not corrected, one will receive an artificial limb within the next few weeks. Four children were examined at the chest clinic. Visits were made to these homes after the clinic and instruction given on the care and prevention of tuberculosis.

Bedsides care given one patient on average of once a week for some time. Tried in vain to persuade patient to go to Infirmary. Working with local officials finally persuaded child to give her a little better care in the home.

Instruction given one woman on care of infant and feeding. Loaned bedding to one case of illness besides giving bedside care.

One child operated on at tonsil and adenoid clinic. Another expected but could not come. Two cases reported by doctors as needing operation. One accepted and one refused. Eight soldiers' families were given considerable time and service and others less.

One service man reported several years ago was too ill to come to office to file his claim. A trip was made by Secretary to his bedside where his claim was filed and all the necessary affidavits were made out. Later the services of a doctor were made possible in his home instead of the usual hospital care. Considerable correspondence was necessary from time to time. Upon his death his government affairs were once more adjusted and the National bonus application filed in behalf of his widow.

The Red Cross strives to help people help themselves.

HERE AND THERE

Accused of shooting to death and robbing John Pickens, 86, Luther Holden, 18, was indicted for first degree murder and held without bail at Weston, W. Va.

Ford Motor company launched its own export and Atlantic coast shipping service when the steamer Onondaga of the Ford fleet left Detroit bound for Buenos Aires. It was the first ship to sail from Detroit to a foreign port.

Fire, declared by Ku Klux Klan officials to have been of incendiary origin, destroyed the new huge klan building at Fort Worth, Tex., causing a loss of $200,000.

A proposal for a state prohibition enforcement act was approved in a referendum in Massachusetts, the vote being: Yes, 454,198; no, 449,951. Three women were elected to the Nebraska house of representatives.

HOW THIS WOMAN GOT STRENGTH

Put Up 300 Quarts Fruit, 500 Glasses Jelly and Took Care of Four Children

Norwalk, Iowa.—"I have been meaning for some time to write and tell you how much good your medicine has done me. When I started to take it I was almost bed fast and would have been in bed all the time if I had had any one to care for my children. There was so much swelling and pain that I could hardly take a step. I took seven bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash, and found that so healing. I am not entirely well yet for I was in bad shape when I started your medicine, but I am so much better that I am not afraid to recommend it, and I think if I keep on taking it, it will cure me. I have done my work all alone this summer, caring for four children, and I canned 300 quarts of fruit and made 500 glasses of jelly, so you see I must be better. I feel pretty good all the time and I am glad to tell others about the medicine."—Mrs. C. J. WENNER-MARK, Box 141, Norwalk, Iowa.

Women can depend upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve them from female troubles. For sale by druggists everywhere.

The Truant Soul

By Victor Rousseau

A hammer lay on the shelf. Joan took it in her hand.

"Listen!" she cried to those outside. "I have the morphine and I have the hammer. And I am going to break every bottle in this room!"

Lancaster cried out pitifully at her words. "Miss Wentworth, you will kill me if you do!"

"Unless this case passes into my possession. I am going to have the storeroom key, and I am going to take charge of Doctor Lancaster, who has employed me for that especial purpose, during this month."

The silence of stupefaction outside was complete. Joan flung the door open boldly and stood before the group, the hammer in her hand. She saw Lancaster, with eyes bent inquiringly upon hers, the matron and Jenkins, mute, and Myers, leaning against the opposite wall of the passage, regarding her with venomous impotence.

"Well, what do you say to that, doctor?" he sneered.

"It is not what Doctor Lancaster says," answered Joan. "It is what I say. Mrs. Fraser, please give me the storeroom key."

The woman, looking askance at Myers, let her hand slip down toward the bunch at her side.

"The key, please," repeated Joan, and received it. Quickly she locked the door and put the key in the pocket of her uniform.

"Now," she said, "I want you all to understand this situation. I am employed by Doctor Lancaster. I am under orders not to go until the month is ended. I am in charge of him. Until he is responsible for his actions I shall remain in charge, under Doctor Jenkins. Doctor Jenkins, is it your order that Doctor Lancaster is to receive a whole dose of morphine every few hours, of the amount he has been taking?"

"Why, Miss Wentworth, I never ordered that," protested Jenkins. "You see, Miss Wentworth—"

"Until you do," interposed Joan bluntly. "I shall continue the treatment as I learned it in Doctor Lancaster's hospital at Avonmouth. And if the storeroom is opened by anyone but myself I shall take legal action to protect Doctor Lancaster's interests."

"Miss Wentworth!" cried Myers. "You are making a tragedy where none exists. Nobody wants to harm the doctor. We all have one sole thought, to help him. Don't we, doctor?" he continued, addressing Lancaster.

"You are all—very kind to me," Lancaster mumbled.

"There, you see!" said Myers, turning toward Joan again. "There may exist differences of opinion," he continued in a facile manner, "and maybe I've expressed myself too forcibly. But we're all at one in wishing the doctor to get well as quickly as he can."

He was almost fawning now, but Joan remained inflexible. She knew that if she relaxed from the nervous tension that was upholding her she would become hysterical.

The group dispersed. Myers followed the girl out upon the veranda and stood for a long time near the door, watching her as she sat at the farther end, trying to compose herself. At last he came up to her.

"See here, Miss Wentworth," he began impetuously; "I've come to you twice and spoken fairly to you. Maybe you see now that you would have been wiser to have met me in the same spirit. Come, now, are we to work together as friends or not?"

"I have no objection," answered Joan, "but my duty concerns nobody but the doctor."

"You mean you won't co-operate with me in saving him from himself?" He looked at her with sullen challenge in his eyes.

"I do," said Joan.

Myers thrust his hands into his pockets. "Right!" he said. "Three times is enough. I understand. And that's the last you'll hear from me about it."

He went away, and Joan sat staring out across the darkening hills. How had she managed to fight this blind battle of hers to a successful issue? She did not know; but, whatever the hold might be that Myers had over Lancaster, she felt that Myers himself was in dread of its discovery.

Presently she saw the matron come cautiously out of the house and hurry toward her.

"How did you do it, Miss Wentworth?" she asked in awe. "You did

"How Did You Do It, Miss Wentworth?" She Asked in Awe.

what none of us would have dared to do—not me, nor Doctor Jenkins."

"Why not?" asked Joan. "Mrs. Fraser, of whom are you afraid? And Doctor Lancaster? It is not of that man Myers, whom he could send about his business at any time when he found strength of will. Who is it?"

"O, Miss Wentworth, I don't know," the matron sobbed. "But save the doctor! O, do save the doctor from that man who is trying to kill him!"

LOCAL GOOD ROAD LEVIES CARRIED IN MANY COUNTIES

Ohio Votes $15,000,000 Available for Road Work Next Year

Columbus, Nov. 8.—According to figures compiled by the Ohio Good Roads federation, 29 counties of the state voted in favor of the local good roads levies at the election last Tuesday.

This makes available for road purposes the sum of $15,210,000. Counties in which levies were defeated are Adams, Auglaize, Brown, Fulton, Hardin, Huron, Logan, Madison and Morrow. Ten counties which defeated local road levies last year voted for them this year. They are as follows: Champaign, Clermont, Delaware, Hancock, Jackson, Meigs, Morgan, Noble, Warren and Wood.

The Ohio Good Roads federation aided greatly in the campaign for the local road levies, sending speakers and literature into the counties and placing advertisements in the newspapers. The levies range from 8 to 2 mills and the time period extends from two to five years, with the exception of Paulding county, in which it is 10 years.

REVOLT AGAIN IMPENDING IN MEXICAN ARMY

Movement May Force Calles to Give Pledges To Officers

Revolt Threatens to Keep President From Taking Office

El Paso, Tex., Nov. 8.—Mexico was threatened today with a military revolt which may prevent President-Elect Plutarco Elias Calles from taking office unless he gives certain pledges to leading army officers, the ring leaders of the anti-Calles movement, it was learned from documents smuggled out of Mexico City to avoid censorship.

If the revolt comes to an actual head, the military chiefs may succeed without causing any bloodshed. The movement according to reliable sources, does not involve civilians, but is being engineered entirely by army officers.

Plans for the uprising have been completed in detail. But before taking any definite step, a revolutionary committee will wait upon President-elect Calles to ask him for satisfactory "declarations of security." If the president-elect consents, there will be no rising; if he does not, everything is in readiness for the blow. Calles is now on his way to the capital from the United States. It is asserted by persons who have studied conditions in Mexico that nearly the whole army is against Calles or at least the most powerful of the leaders.

Flying Ex-Congressman Must Pay Damages.

MANUEL HERRICK

Manuel Herrick, who described himself as "The Flying Daredevil of Congress," when he was a member from Oklahoma, has been ordered by the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia to pay $7,500 to Miss Ethel Chane, a Government clerk of Washington, who alleged malicious slander following her refusal to marry him. The next day he was granted a verdict of 1 cent against her for breach of promise.

TAX QUESTION NOT TO BE CONSIDERED AT SHORT SESSION

Bradford Named Member Of President's Agricultural Commission.

Washington, Nov. 8.—Reports that the taxation question will be reopened at the short session of congress are discredited here.

President Coolidge, it became known, does not think it advisable to reopen the problem until the new congress convenes. In this connection it is announced that the president does not contemplate calling an extra session after March 4. Farm legislation and the annual appropriation bills will comprise the principal subjects of congressional action at the short session of congress, which convenes the first Monday in December.

The personnel of the commission to inquire into agricultural conditions was announced by the president. The commissions is expected to formulate a program for permanent improvement of agriculture through legislation and otherwise. Members of the commission as announced by the president are: Robert D. Carey of Careyhurst, Wyo., chairman; O. E. Bradford, president of the American Farm Bureau federation, of Xenia, O.; Charles S. Barrett, chairman of the National Board of Farm Organizations, of Union City, Ga.; Louis J. Taber, master of the National Grange, of Columbus, O.; Ralph P. Merritt of Fresno, Cal., president of the Sun-Maid Raisin Growers; R. W. Thatcher, director of the New York experiment station, of Geneva, N. Y.; W. C. Coffey, dean of the college of agriculture and director of the experiment station of the University of Minnesota, and Fred H. Bixby, president of the American National Live Stock association, of Long Beach, Cal.

It was stated the president believes the men selected are representative of farmers generally and well acquainted with agricultural conditions. As a result, it is believed a program may be outlined by them without undue delay and probably in time for action upon any proposal requiring legislative action at the short session of the present congress.

Mrs. Ferguson's Majority.
Dallas, Tex., Nov. 8.—Complete returns from 103 counties show the following totals for governor: Dr. George C. Butte (R.), 143,003; Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson (D.), 179,553. These figures give Mrs. Ferguson a majority of 36,550 votes.

Indianapolis, Nov. 8.—In a letter to President Coolidge James A. Drain, national commander of the American Legion, expresses himself as being in accord with the president's views that Armistice day celebrations should emphasize the need of permanent world peace. Drain also declared the legion was in favor of "the erection of some form of competent world court," in order to establish justice between nations.

Commander Drain's letter was in reply to one from President Coolidge on Nov. 1, in which the legion chief was asked to assist in emphasizing on Armistice day the necessity of world peace. "The legion will emphasize on Armistice day," Drain's letter said, "the substance of your words that 'humanity has more reason for unity than for discord.' On Armistice day and all other days it has and will, at home and abroad, work in practicable ways to make a reality of the thought these words suggest."

CONFESSION OF COMPANIONS ENDS TEN DAY SEARCH FOR SMALL BOY

Youths Lead Police to Body They Had Thrown In Brush Pile—Youngsters 9 to 12 Years Old May Be Held For Homicide.

New York, Nov. 8.—Four boys from the same Boy Scout troop just about old enough to take their first interest in outdoors, guns and hunting, waited today in the children's home in Brooklyn for arraignment in children's court Monday on the charge of killing their playmate Ernest Schwenker, 13.

The confession and aid in finding the body in the brush-filled pit where the terror stricken boys had thrown it, ended a ten day hunt by detectives, an airplane, neighbors, schoolchildren and firemen of the Brooklyn truck company of which the boy's father was a member.

If their ages permit, Captain Gallagher said today, charges of homicide will be filed against Ernest's four companions:

Arthur and Harold Megan, 12 and 11; Charles Hirschfeld, 9 and Adam Rotunda, 12, whose confessions were obtained by the promise of all the ice cream that little Adam Rotunda could eat.

The boys were taken to the swamp and asked to point the direction Ernest went when he left them. They disagreed and Captain Gallagher told Rotunda he was going to walk him to Sing Sing. Adam said he would not go until he had something to eat.

He was told he would get nothing until he confessed but that could have anything he wanted after he told the whole story.

"Ice cream?" he asked. "All you can eat," Gallagher promised.

After two plates of strawberry and chocolate, while a third was waiting until he finished his story, Adam told how Ernest was shot when Arthur Megan laid the gun down on a stump. The bullet passed through the boy's temple.

Latest returns have made no appreciable changes in the majorities of Crabbie, Secretary of State Brown, State Treasurer Day, Auditor Tracy, Republicans re-elected, or of Charles H. Lewis, Republican nominee, who defeated Earl D. Bloom for lieutenant governor. The same is true also of Judges J. E. Robinson and R. R. Kinkead, Republicans elected to supreme court for the long term, and Judge Harry L. Conn, Democrat, elected for the short term expiring Jan. 1.

A canvass made by the clerks of the senate and house discloses the makeup of the two chambers in the next legislature will be: Senate, Republicans 33, Democrats 2; house, Republicans 110, Democrats 20. Democrats have four senators and 27 representatives in the present legislature.

Attorney General Crabbie, who has been at odds with Governor Donahey, indicated he would offer the co-operation of his department with the governor in the next two years. Mr. Crabbie was Governor Donahey's severest critic during the first term of his administration. Frequent clashes between the two became bitter and invective was often resorted to in communications that were flung back and forth.

Now the attorney general says he believes that all departments of the state government should function in harmony. "I believe that Governor Donahey and the Republican majority in the legislature should get together and work out some plan of legislation that will be beneficial to both," he declared. "With such a strong majority we can not tell now what can be accomplished in the matter of taxation, but it is evident that some co-operation between the state departments is needed to bring about better conditions in government."

Mr. Crabbie's sentiment along this line are said to be shared by other elective officers of the state government, who were returned to their posts by the Republican party.

CHARGES ELECTION FRAUDS IN PROTESTING SEATING OF CONGRESSMAN-ELECT BURTON

Cleveland, O., Nov. 8.—Alleging that gross and repeated election frauds were perpetrated in the 22nd Ohio congressional district, in which Congressman Theodore E. Burton, temporary chairman of the Republican national committee, last June, and one of the leaders of the house was elected by a plurality of more than 50,000, Albert F. Coyle, progressive candidate, today mailed to the clerk of the house at Washington a formal protest against the seating of Burton in the 69th congress.

Coyle asserted that he had already had proof of fraudulent practices in more than fifty precincts and that he was now engaged in rechecking returns from other precincts throughout the district.

He declared that in one instance sixty votes were cast for him but that

LEADERS STILL UNWILLING TO BURY ALL HOPE

Future of Movement Will Be Decided at Two Meetings Scheduled.

Minority Wants to Work From Within Both Old Parties, It is Said

Washington, Nov. 8.—The future of the LaFollette third party as a factor in American politics is distinctly uncertain—this much can be stated on the authority of some of those most intimately connected with it.

None of the little group of leaders who fought—and went down—with the Wisconsin insurgent in the campaign just ended are yet willing to bury their hopes of a strong, independent and liberal third party. On the contrary they are more determined than ever that the efforts and money expended in this campaign shall not have been in vain.

"Going, of course, we are going to."

That is the answer of William H. Johnston, chairman of the conference for progressive political action, who has been one of the big labor leaders behind the LaFollette movement, to all questions.

But as yet their plans during the four years that must elapse before there is another chance, are extremely vague. They will be worked out in the months immediately ahead. Two big conferences, one to be held in December, and another in January, will largely determine their future course.

There are some labor leaders identified with the LaFollette movement, who feel that the independent's cause can best be served by abandoning any efforts to form a rebel third party. Their idea is to "bore from within," both old parties to secure labor's ends along the lines of economic legislation.

These leaders, who incidentally are in the minority, point out that by concentrating on electing their friends in the old parties, Senator Brookhart, for example, they can do more in a shorter space of time than by fighting the old parties with another party.

In the end, it was said today by those high in the councils of the movement, the situation will be met by continuing at least the framework of the third party which was constructed this year by so much effort. By keeping intact the skeleton of a party they at least would be assured four years hence by getting their party nominees on the ballots, something they were not able to do this year in many states.

The conference for progressive political action will meet in Washington a week after congress convenes. It probably will endorse the existing party frame work and set a January date for a convention. This convention also will endorse the third party.

The American Federation of Labor meets in El Paso November 14, and it, too, probably will endorse the third party, although there will be some opposition to this.

But the future plans are uncertain. They will depend to a large extent upon future events. It is yet too early, leaders said, today, to forecast with any degree of definiteness the future course of the movement.

MOTION OF PONZI AGAIN OVERRULED

Boston, Nov. 8.—Judge Bishop overruled the motion of Charles Ponzi, who went to prison when his financial operations collapsed in 1920, to have the five indictments against him quashed. Ponzi was placed on trial in Suffolk county court for larceny of $10,000 from investors.

Acting as his own counsel, Ponzi, who was released from Plymouth county jail last August after completing a term as federal prisoner, made his motion on the ground that he has been tried on similar charges and acquitted and that his constitutional rights precluded him being placed in jeopardy again. Charles Rittenhouse, public accountant, testified that an examination of Ponzi's books disclosed a total of $9,582,000 had been paid to Ponzi and $9,137,100 had been deposited in banks, a difference of approximately $450,000.

To Consider Legislation.

Cleveland, Nov. 8.—Chief executives and representatives of 20 railroad brotherhoods and affiliated organizations met here today to discuss the Howell-Burkley bill and decide on future course of action. The bill seeks to abolish the railroad labor board. It is the first bill on the calendar when congress convenes.

Levy Fails; School Closed.

Springfield, O., Nov. 8.—Vacation from now to next September is the lot of 267 students of Pleasant township, Clarke county, after failure by 40 votes to get a special school tax levy passed. Superintendent O. T. Hawke says he can't find teachers who will work for nothing, so the schoolhouse closes its doors.

DONAHEY MAJORITY IN COUNTY IS FIRST SINCE 1908 VOTING

The old election "dope bucket" was upset in Greene County when a Democratic candidate for governor succeeded in nailing out Harry L. Davis, Republican, candidate for the first time in sixteen years, in the election Tuesday.

A majority of re-election dopesters had practically conceded a large plurality to Davis over Vic Donahey in the county, but these forecasts received a rude shock when the total vote was compiled Wednesday.

Incidentally, it has been sixteen long years since a Democratic candidate for the position of chief executive over the G. O. P. candidate in the county. Back in 1908, when the "wet and dry" question was the leading issue of the race, the Democratic candidate, James Pattison, received a majority over M. T. Herrick, his Republican opponent in Greene County. Pattison died a month after taking office. Matt Denver, Wilmington Democrat, was given a majority in the county for Congress, several years later.

The Republican presidential incumbent, Calvin Coolidge, received the largest plurality in the county. This election of any other Republican candidate, with the exception of Harvey Elam, clerk of courts, who was elected without opposition, receiving the high vote.

Coolidge's plurality in the county was larger approximately 1,300 votes than the Harding majority over Cox, the Democratic candidate, four years ago. Harding's plurality then was 4,584 over his opponent.

In the governor race two years ago, Carmel A. Thompson, the Republican candidate, received a majority over Vic Donahey, incumbent, of 2,808 votes.

The big upset in the county was attributed to the unprecedented "scratching" of ballots by the voters, in the gubernatorial race.

Is Starvation Wresting Life from Men and Women of Today?

40% Are Underfed

Grave Conclusions Are Drawn as Result of Startling Revelations; 40% of All School Children Said to be Under-Nourished.

Physicians and Other Thinkers See in Pure Cod Liver Oil Blessed Relief to Young and Old Who Are Underfed.

Greatest of All Builders Now May Be Had in New Easy-to-Take Form Called Coco-Cod.

Is starvation gnawing at the roots of our civilization, sapping the vitality of man, woman and child? It would seem so, according to scientists, who draw grave conclusions from the results of a recent investigation in our public schools.

Among all students examined, fully 40 per cent were found to be victims of mal-nutrition and vitamin deficiency—literally starving in the midst of plenty. Physicians and other constructive thinkers see in this condition the reason for much of the ill health of our adult population. Men and women are pale, nervous, broken-down shadows of what they might be, simply because their systems have been starved from early youth. They need the strength and vigor of good rich, red blood—the kind that comes from ample vitamin content in the food.

And they can have it! For in this emergency doctors are turning to pure Norwegian cod liver oil and successfully combatting this newly discovered evil through an intensive feeding or building process. However, in youngsters and even among grown-ups, the taste of cod liver oil has prevented its wide use.

Now, by a fortunate circumstance, there has been recently brought to public notice pure cod liver oil in a new, easy-to-take form—and with the addition of A, B, C and D vitamins. Leading medical lights declare it a blessing to men, women and children who are under-nourished because their systems do not derive from their food the vitamins needed to build sound, firm flesh, calm nerves and pure blood.

CocoCod, as its name indicates, has the pleasant taste of rich cocoa. Children welcome it and thrive on it. It is truly amazing even in old age how it quickens the eliminative organs, builds greater nerve force and sends rich, red blood pulsing through bodies which formerly dragged under the weight of years. It contains in concentrated form those vital elements which our modern cooking and baking have taken from our food, such as the vitamins found in spinach and cabbage, rice polishing, eggs and yeast—all blended in pure Norwegian cod liver oil and rendered palatable by the addition of rich cocoa.

Is cod liver oil at last to come into its own as a means of rescue from threatened starvation of our race? Physicians and teachers believe that it is, and are advising mothers to give their children the benefit of this strength-insuring food, and not to deny themselves its healthful influence.

Local druggists have arranged to distribute CocoCod and, like our physicians and teachers, have been fully advised concerning its value in the present emergency.—Adv.

Health Hints by the Father of Physical Culture

The physical man from birth to death is built, repaired and maintained by the activities of the stomach, and the quality of the man largely depends upon the quality of his digestion. A well built and well repaired machine will last longer than a poorly built one, and just as surely will the body that is well-built and repaired by a sound and well cared for stomach last longer than one which is less well built and cared for. Long life and a vigorous old age perhaps are more dependent upon a good digestion than upon any other single factor.

These statements are quite obvious and indisputable, but there are widely different ideas as to what constitutes a good digestion and how it should be cared for. The greatest of the popular errors concerning the stomach is that its efficiency is to be judged by the abuse that it will stand. The stomach that will dispose of a large quantity of food, or digest foods that are difficult to digest, may be called a "strong" stomach; but such a stomach may be very cause of its owner's illness, a stomach that is not strong, but that is not abused, will last longer than a strong stomach that is abused. The stomach that will contribute to long life is the one that will send forth the call of appetite for only the kind and quantity of food needed to maintain and prolong life. The happy medium of stomach power is perhaps the safest one a man can have. A strong stomach, the kind that will stand abuse, would seem, if never abused, the more desirable, for there would always be a reserve power of digestion. But in practice we are all creatures of appetite, and few of us can fully control our food intake by purely intellectual guidance. It is for this reason that the man who is especially inclined to eat so often outlives his neighbor with the lusty appetite. The weak digestion may be troublesome, but it must be carefully handled, and so many outlast the strong.

A COMRADE'S GIFT

We are living in an age of great benevolences. Far more than in former days, it is being impressed upon the minds of the rich that wealth is to be regarded as a trust, and to be applied to high purposes and noble aims. Human sympathy and an appreciation of our duties toward others less fortunate in the struggle for existence, are having their way. Wealth for its own sake is coming more and more to be valued in proportion to the opportunities it affords us of doing good to others.

It is this spirit that ex-Congressman Charles D. Haines of New York and his wife, have moulded their lives. Their great opportunity came when, on July 14th last, they deeded a large estate at Altamonte Springs, in one of the most salubrious sections of Florida, to be the site of a National Home for Newspaper Men. Mr. Haines' attachment to the journalistic profession dates from his young manhood, and he has owned three daily and eight weekly publications. Having ample opportunities for observation, he saw that newspaper men as a class give much to the world and receive but small recompense. Many having given the best that was in them have finally settled down to lives of penury.

"I have not wanted to give them a poorhouse or a charitable institution," Mr. Haines explains, "but I have wanted them to have a home where, when they are tired, they might come and be happy." Accordingly he has transferred toward this enterprise twenty acres of young groves running in one direction, and twenty more acres in another—all fine land. In the same generous spirit, Mrs. Haines gives them a clubhouse and buildings for entertainments, with twenty-seven acres adjoining. These gifts were accompanied by a check for $10,000 to start the project, and the donor added that he had $100,000 ready to turn over to the Home when it is established and fairly going. But this is not all. The rest of the estate and the buildings now upon it, he and his wife desire to retain during their lifetime; after which it is to be turned over for purposes of the Home, the whole extent of the land involved being about 700 acres. A number of buildings will go ultimately with this additional property to the Home.

The fine spirit in which this munificent gift is tendered the donor expresses in these words: "I am giving you this land—the Home and the land—without any strings attached. I want you to take it and make of it what you see fit. I hope you will make of it a real Home for the retired and working newspapermen of the country. He makes it clear that he tenders this gift not as charity but "as a crown of laurels for labor well done—a retreat at eventide, after the heat and toil of the day."—From Christian Herald of Nov. 8.

IMBRIE SLAYERS EXECUTED IN PRESENCE OF U. S. ENVOYS

Execution by the Persian Government of Seyid Hussien, ring-leader of the mob which murdered American Vice Consul Imbrie in Teheran, was reported officially Monday to our State Department.

Another man was executed for the crime at the same time. The death sentences were carried out after the Washington Government had insisted that the two men must receive the extreme penalty, despite a decision by the Persian Cabinet to commute their sentences. A third man found guilty and sentenced to death was executed some time ago.

A score of members of the mob which killed Imbrie have received lesser sentences.

The Persian Government also has completed other phases of the program it laid down for itself at the time of the murder. It has made substantial payments to Imbrie's widow and has proffered its readiness to meet the entire cost of bringing Imbrie's body home for burial. Under the insistent pressure of the Washington Government, the Persian army colonel in command of the forces in Teheran, which should have protected Imbrie, has been placed under arrest preparatory to trial, although original action taken in his case was merely to relieve him of his command.

As was done in the case of the first execution, the American Legation staff in Teheran was requested by the Persian authorities to witness the execution of the two men who were put to death by a military firing squad.

A REAL "FORTY-NINER"

Doctor Wilfred Grenfell says that with proper care of the human mechanism we ought to live to be 125. Evidently, then, the life of ex-Senator Cornelius Cole, who has just passed away at the age of a little over 102, was cut off prematurely. This oldest graduate of Wesleyan at 100 crossed the Continent from California to attend the commencement exercises of his college. A friend of Lincoln, he heard the Gettysburg address delivered, and conversed with the martyred President on the day of his assassination. A real forty-niner, he mingled with the Vigilantes, used the pony express, took pot-luck and incurred field hazards with the placer miners. He went to Philadelphia to attend as a delegate the first Republican convention that nominated Fremont for the presidency. All told his long term of years included as great a variety of experience as has fallen to the lot of all but the most exceptional Americans.

THE GOLFER'S WAIL

Oh, I can shoot a hole in par.
Some of my drives are very good.
My mashie shots successful are.
I'm not afraid to use the wood;
I have been in thirty-nine
This year, I'd say, three times or four.
But still I make this doleful whine:
I never get a medal score!

At match play I can hold my own
In fact at times I'm hard to beat.
The golfers I have overthrown
All said my work was rather neat;
Full many a day I've known the thrill
Of driving two hundred yards and more.
I think I've learned the game, but still
I never get a medal score!

When I review at night my card,
Six lovely fours I smile to see,
And two of them exceedingly hard
As all who play the course agree;
And here I note a "birdie" two
And there a five worth gloating o'er,
But there's a curse on all I do,
I never get a medal score.

Somewhere along the course it seems
It is my lot to take an eight,
Some times a nine wrecks all my dreams

And leaves me sad and desolate;
Today I had ten strokes where I
Holed out in three the day before.
Oh, how much longer must I cry:
I never get a medal score!

Not only each year, but almost every season brings some new ideas concerning house furnishings. Here are some of the latest:

Silk Rubber Curtains for the Kitchen: I have recently seen these in two brides' houses. They were straight, narrow side curtains 15 inches wide, falling from the top of the window to the sill. An inch wide hem had been made at the bottom by the sewing machine and a narrow turn-under finished the sides of each curtain. Small brass rings were caught here and there along the top of the silk rubber, to be slipped onto a brass rod. The color was grass green. A strip of light green lineoleum, "pinked" at the edges and about eight inches deep, ran across the top of the window as a valance, covering the brass rod at the top of the curtains.

This silk rubber material comes 33 inches wide and, at most department stores, costs about $4.50 a yard. One-half of this width (that is, 16 1/2 inches) makes a curtain to go at one side of the window. The lineoleum costs about $3.25 (at some stores) per square yard. This makes the curtains expensive—but what a comfort they would be!

Tapestry Cover for a Console Table: In the past we have been satisfied with small dollies of all shapes for our console tables. Now interior decorators suggest that we shape our dollies to follow the lines of the table-top, but one inch smaller. To make one of the new covers at home, simply buy a remnant of tapestry, cut it half-moon shape like your table-top (only have it small enough so that one inch of the polished surface will show all around the cover) and finish edges with gilt braid, lining the little cover with soft flannel.

Colored Voile Bed Covers: These are becoming very popular. Buy old-rose voile 36 inches wide (assuming that your bed is a yard-wide single or twin bed). Use two yards of this material to cover top-surface of bed. Sew a three-inch wide strip to either side of this piece. Add to the three-inch-strip sew a 16-inch ruffle which will reach to the floor on either side of the bed. Cover all seams and edges (that is, the edges at head and foot of bed, and at bottom of ruffle) with a strip of inch-wide voile shirred on. Make a pillow cover exactly the same except have it only 27 inches long instead of two yards long.

THE "DAD" JOB

The greatest job in the world is to be a mother. Next to that is to be a father.

I have the second greatest job in the world. And I think I might well call it a job de luxe for I am the father of twin boys.

One of my lady correspondents became rather disconcerted when she heard of this, for previously she had imagined that instead of being 40-odd in years and the father of twin boys, she was writing to a patriarch like Moses who didn't get nervous or disturbed when tears were wept upon his shoulder.

A month ago I left home with my boys for a 1,500 mile trip by motor. It rained some days, but to us the sun was always out.

Boys at 17 are often untamed. And as high as 40 in age they show earmarks of the wild. Every day was an adventure. One of the boys always called me "Master." For what reason I know not. But I was, nevertheless, pleased and honored. The other always called me "Dad."

Many hotel men were glad when we departed. They said they rented rooms—not gymnasiums!

There were hardships. Early and late meals—sometimes skipped ones, and long drives at night. But never a complaint. When I was 17 I longed for a father who was 17; so then and there I determined to be a 17-year old father myself some day. And that's why this job of being a "dad" right now has more thrills and adventure to it than anything I have done or ever hope to do.

At the age of 46, to be exact, I sometimes give each of these boys a set of tennis—if they earn it; otherwise not. And we box and wrestle and mess things up generally.

We confide our troubles to each other. Three heads are much better than one. And two young heads are often better than one old one.

A lot of you fathers are missing a grand circus such as Barnum never pulled. These boys are to be my future partners in business. They are my pals now.

Leland expects to go to Yale. George, Jr., to Dartmouth. They both play football. I saw by the papers recently that the game between Yale and Dartmouth ended in a tie!

I like the "dad" job. You will if you do it as you do your other big jobs.

LESSON NO. 6

LIGHTING THE DINING ROOM

In some ways the dining room is just the opposite of the living room. The living room has many different uses, but the dining room is seldom used except at meal times. In the living room the furniture is moved about and changed, but in the dining room the arrangement of furniture rarely changes.

The dining table is in the center of the room, and it is the center of interest. It should be the most brightly lighted object in the whole room. There are a number of different kinds of fixtures which may be hung from the ceiling to provide good lighting, and almost all of them may be used improperly to provide bad lighting.

(C) the glare from the bulb is directly in the eyes of everyone seated at the table, but if it is put down closer to the table, as at (D) the fixture completely hides the bulb, and we have excellent dining room lighting without glare. For most fixtures it is best to see that the bottom of the shades is not more than 36 inches above the table for (A) and 24 inches above the table for (D). Where candle fixtures are used, shades are needed not only to protect the eyes from the glare, but to reflect some of the light which would otherwise go up to the ceiling or down on the table.

THE CENTER CEILING FIXTURE

Whatever the kind of fixture, it is important that the eyes of anyone seated at the table be protected against the glare of the bulbs which furnish the light. There are two ways to do this. 1. Be sure that the shades are long enough, and of the right shape. For example, the next picture shows a fixture on which one bulb (A) is well shaded and the other bulb (B) is badly shaded.

The shade which is narrower at the bottom protects the eyes of the person at the table. 2. For a given shade, be sure the fixture is low enough over the table (but not so low as to be in the way or make it impossible to see the person sitting opposite).

Now look at the fixture in (C) and (D). When this fixture is as high above the table as it is at need bulbs with a total of from 100 to 200 watts.

OTHER LIGHTING

Bracket fixtures on the wall and candlesticks on the buffet may be used to add decoration, provided they are well shaded and are not so bright as to be annoying or to produce glare and eye-strain. When they are used, the bulbs should not be larger than 15 or 25 watts.

Convenience outlets should be installed for electric appliances. If used on the dining table, a convenience outlet may be placed in the floor under the table, or on the under side of the table itself, so that the unsightly cord need not hang from a bulb socket and cause one part of the lighting fixture to be dark. Duplex convenience outlets which permit the use of two appliances may be installed for practically the same cost as the older style single outlets.

REUTINGER HELPS CAPITAL DEFEAT WILMINGTON TEAM

Edwin Reutinger, Xenia, student at Capital University, former Central High School football star and playing his first year of college football, again proved a life saver Friday afternoon in the Wilmington-Capital game to the Katherman coached team, when his run of fifty-five yards over the Wilmington goal line after picking up a blocked punt with only nine minutes to play enabled Capital to register a 7 to 6 victory over Wilmington in Capital's home coming game at Columbus. The 7 to 6 margin was made possible when Bernlohr made good the extra point by way of the place kick routine.

The victory proved a costly one to Capital however, as Dowden regular right guard was hurt on the play, after blocking the punt that allowed Reutinger to scoop up the oval and scatter the remaining distance to the goal line from mid-field for the points that proved the winning margin.

Reutinger has earned a regular place on the Columbus eleven, and the fifty-five yard run for a touchdown Friday, marked the second time this year he has made a sensational play. In the Kenyon game several weeks ago, Capital's only score was made possible, when Reutinger intercepted a pass and squirmed and dodged his way down the field for seventy yards and a touchdown. Capital lost the game however.

Wilmington scored in the first quarter, on a series of line smashes and a triple pass, but try for goal was missed. Dowden, Reutinger and Spedel were the shining lights for Capital on the line, while Seifert and Braun were the most ground gainers in the backfield. The Fisher brothers in the backfield and Nowald, Barnes and Stevens on the line were the best bets for the Wilmington crew.

COMMISSIONERS AT ODDS WITH PROPERTY OWNERS MAY CHANGE PIKE PAVING PLANS

Unless property owners along Inter-County Highway, No. 6, the Cincinnati Pike, come down off their "high horse," and agree to accept less damages for about seven and one half feet of their property on each side of the road, than they are now asking, the repair and macadam work which is scheduled to be done to the pike, from the corporation line of Xenia to Mount Holly, in Warren County, will not be started in the spring of next year the Greene County Commissioners warned in an ultimatum served Friday.

Instead of remodeling that pike, the dirt pike connecting Xenia with Fairfield, which has been recently recognized as an inter-county highway, may be macadamized next year. Property holders along the latter road have urged the County Commissioners to remodel the Fairfield Pike, a distance of about ten miles from Xenia, and as the federal offer of an appropriation of $72,000 to aid the state and county in remodeling the Cincinnati Pike, only holds good for a certain length of time, commissioners are thinking seriously of transferring the appropriation to the Fairfield Pike.

Providing property owners along the Cincinnati Pike agree to come to terms, the Fairfield Pike project will probably be dispensed with. The state law provides that all inter-county highways, shall be sixty feet wide at the minimum, and as the Cincinnati Pike is now but about forty-five feet wide, in order to remodel it, about fifteen feet of land must be bought from property adjoining the road, to comply with the state law and widen the pike.

The engineering and surveying work has been completed by the county on the pike, and everything is in readiness to begin work in the spring, the only hitch in the proceedings being the reluctance of the adjacent land holders to dispose of their property at the amount offered.

The cost of remodeling either pike, under discussion, would probably not exceed several hundred thousand dollars, according to the county commissioners, and with both the state and federal aid promised, the project should go through nicely.

OLD MAN WINTER IS DOING HIS STUFF ON WINGS OF COLD WIND

Overcoats, mufflers and gloves were in vogue late Friday afternoon and Saturday morning when a bitter cold wind coming out of the Northwest, where regions are experiencing light snow fall, carried with it near freezing temperatures, and swept the Miami Valley and Xenia.

The frigid wind Friday night served as an advance messenger of the forth-coming cold spell which will cause flimsy garments to be cast aside by the most optimistic persons, to be replaced by heavier apparel.

When the cold wave hits in its full strength it will force the mercury below the 30 degree mark it was predicted Friday by various weather prophets. The first decline in temperature was noticed Friday when the wind shifted from the southwest to the northeast. Temperatures dropped to 40 degrees Saturday morning.

FIRE DESTROYS BIG BARN ON FARM OWNED BY MRS. MARY BAIN

Fanned by the unusually high wind Friday, a large barn, on a farm owned by Mrs. Mary S. Bain, of this city, on a side road between Spring Valley and New Burlington, was completely destroyed by fire with most of its contents Friday afternoon about 1 o'clock, entailing a loss estimated between $6,000 and $8,000, part of which was covered by insurance.

Albert Lumpkin, tenant on the farm, with several farm hands, were in the barn at the time husking corn, and declared that the flames seemed to spring up all around them from the floor. Lumpkin was unable to place the cause of the fire Saturday morning.

Farm hands succeeded in getting the live stock out of the burning building but all farm implements together with several cribs of fodder, were entirely destroyed.

A bucket brigade was formed when aid was obtained from New Burlington and prevented the fire from spreading to the grass and woods. The nearby farm house was left untouched by the flames because of the wind which blew the flames in the opposite direction.

FARM BUREAU HEAD AGAINST GAS TAX

W. B. Bryson, president of the Greene County Farm Bureau presented a resolution, voicing the sentiment of the rural districts in regard, to the gasoline tax and license fee, on motor vehicles at the four-county Farm Bureau meeting in Dayton, recently. Greene, Montgomery, Fayette and Clinton County Farm Bureaus were represented by their presidents, secretaries and county agents, at the meeting.

The resolution presented by Mr. Bryson, and which was passed unanimously, was as follows: "Resolved, that it is the sense of this meeting, that we favor a gasoline tax and a reasonable reduction of the license fee on all motor vehicles and that we ask our state organization to use every effort through its lobby to have our Legislature bring about such legislation."

Opposition of farmers and rural organization to the proposed Child Labor law was also brought out at the meeting but no action taken.

PAPPAS ANXIOUS TO MEET BROOKS AGAIN

Smarting from a defeat at the hands of Bill Brooks, Wilmington, in a wrestling match staged at the Eagles' Hall recently, Tom Pappas, of Springfield, former Xenian, and well known heavyweight wrestler, will attempt to stage a comeback Monday night, against his rival.

These two mat men will hook up Monday night at the Eagles' Hall in the main bout of the program. The match is to be a finish affair, to go two out of three falls. The men will wrestle at 168 and 158 pounds.

The semi-final match between George Gatsoff, of Massillon, and Harry Kilonski, of Norfolk, Va., will also go two out of three falls, and this match should rival the main go in interest to the fans, because the mat ability of the two principals is unquestioned. The men are welterweights, and will wrestle at about 148 pounds.

The curtain raiser between Kid Black, of Springfield, and Wilbur Strobridge, of this city, is a lightweight affair, and is scheduled to go fifteen minutes to a decision. This bout will be an amateur affair.

Gatsoff, the popular welterweight, has been suffering from boil attacks at intervals, but announces that he is in perfect condition for the Monday fracas and will be ready at the gong.

The match is scheduled to start at 8:15 o'clock with popular prices prevailing.

WORKERS FOR RED CROSS HOLD MEET IN CEDARVILLE TWP.

A meeting of the Red Cross Roll Call workers in Cedarville township was called by the township chairman, Wilson W. Galloway for Wednesday afternoon.

Among the things done by the Red Cross in Cedarville township last year was the examination of the first grade in the school and calls made on the parents, the higher grades having been examined formerly.

Of the five cripples in the township three came to clinics. One received special treatment, one was not corrected, one will receive an artificial limb within the next few weeks. Four children were examined at the chest clinic. Visits were made to these homes after the clinic and instruction given on the care and prevention of tuberculosis.

Bedside care given one patient on average of once a week for some time. Tried in vain to persuade patient to go to infirmary. Working with local officials finally persuaded child to give her a little better care in the home.

Instruction given one woman on care of infant and feeding. Loaned bedding to one case of illness besides giving bedside care.

One child operated on at tonsil and adenoid clinic. Another expected but could not come. Two cases reported by doctors as needing operation. One accepted and one refused. Eight soldiers' families were given considerable time and service and others less.

One service man reported several years ago was too ill to come to office to file his claim. A trip was made by Secretary to his bedside where his claim was filed and all the necessary affidavits were made out. Later the services of a doctor were made possible in his home instead of the usual hospital care. Considerable correspondence was necessary from time to time. Upon his death his government affairs were once more adjusted and the National bonus application filed in behalf of his widow.

The Red Cross strives to help people help themselves.

Fire, declared by Ku Klux Klan officials to have been of incendiary origin, destroyed the new huge Klan building at Fort Worth, Tex., causing a loss of $200,000.

A proposal for a state prohibition enforcement act was approved in a referendum in Massachusetts, the vote being: Yes, 454,198; no, 449,951.

HOW THIS WOMAN GOT STRENGTH

Put Up 300 Quarts Fruit, 500 Glasses Jelly and Took Care of Four Children

Norwalk, Iowa.—"I have been meaning for some time to write and tell you how much good your medicine has done me. When I started to take it I was almost bed fast and would have been in bed all the time if I had had any one to care for my children. There was so much swelling and pain that I could hardly take a step. I took seven bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash, and found that so healing. I am not entirely well yet for I was in bad shape when I started your medicine, but I am so much better that I am not afraid to recommend it, and I think I keep on taking it, it will cure me. I have done my work all alone this summer, caring for four children, and I canned 300 quarts of fruit and made 500 glasses of jelly, so you see I must be better. I feel pretty good all the time and I am glad to tell others about the medicine."—Mrs. C. J. WENNER-MARK, Box 141, Norwalk, Iowa.

Women can depend upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve them from female troubles. For sale by druggists everywhere.

The Truant Soul

By Victor Rousseau

A hammer lay on the shelf. Joan took it in her hand.

"Listen!" she cried to those outside. "I have the morphine and I have the hammer. And I am going to break every bottle in this room—"

Lancaster cried out pitifully at her words. "Miss Wentworth, you will kill me if you do!"

"Unless this case passes into my possession. I am going to have the storeroom key, and I am going to take charge of Doctor Lancaster, who has employed me for that especial purpose, during this month."

The silence of stupefaction outside was complete. Joan flung the door open boldly and stood before the group, the hammer in her hand. She saw Lancaster, with eyes bent inquiringly upon hers, the matron and Jenkins, mute, and Myers, leaning against the opposite wall of the passage, regarding her with venomous impotence.

"Well, what do you say to that, doctor?" he sneered. "It is not what Doctor Lancaster says," answered Joan. "It is what I say. Mrs. Fraser, please give me the storeroom key."

The woman, looking askance at Myers, let her hand slip down toward the bunch at her side. "The key, please," repeated Joan, and received it. Quickly she looked the door and put the key in the pocket of her uniform.

"Now," she said, "I want you all to understand this situation. I am employed by Doctor Lancaster. I am under orders not to go until the month is ended. I am in charge of him. Until he is responsible for his actions I shall remain in charge, under Doctor Jenkins. Doctor Jenkins, is it your order that Doctor Lancaster is to receive a whole dose of morphine every few hours, of the amount he has been taking?"

"Why, Miss Wentworth, I never ordered that," protested Jenkins. "You see, Miss Wentworth—"

"Until you do," interposed Joan bluntly, "I shall continue the treatment as I learned it in Doctor Lancaster's hospital at Avonmouth. And if the storeroom is opened by anyone but myself I shall take legal action to protect Doctor Lancaster's interests."

"Miss Wentworth!" cried Myers, "you are making a tragedy where none exists. Nobody wants to harm the doctor. We all have one sole thought, to help him. Don't we, doctor?" he continued, addressing Lancaster.

"You are all—very kind to me," Lancaster mumbled.

"There, you see!" said Myers, turning toward Joan again. "There may exist differences of opinion," he continued in a facile manner, "and maybe I've expressed myself too forcibly. But we're all at one in wishing the doctor to get well as quickly as he can."

He was almost fawning now, but Joan remained inflexible. She knew that if she relaxed from the nervous tension that was upholding her she would become hysterical.

The group dispersed. Myers followed the girl out upon the veranda and stood for a long time near the door, watching her as she sat at the farther end, trying to compose herself. At last he came up to her.

"See here, Miss Wentworth," he began impetuously; "I've come to you twice and spoken fairly to you. Maybe you see now that you would have been wiser to have met me in the same spirit. Come, now, are we to work together as friends or not?"

"I have no objection," answered Joan, "but my duty concerns nobody but the doctor."

"You mean you won't co-operate with me in saving him from himself?" He looked at her with sullen challenge in his eyes.

"I do," said Joan. "Myers thrust his hands into his pockets. 'Right!' he said. 'Three times is enough. I understand. And that's the last you'll hear from me about it.'"

He went away, and Joan sat staring out across the darkening hills. How had she managed to fight this blind battle of hers to a successful issue? She did not know; but, whatever the hold might be that Myers had over Lancaster, she felt that Myers himself was in dread of his discovery.

Presently she saw the matron come cautiously out of the house and hurry toward her.

"How did you do it, Miss Wentworth?" she asked in awe. "You did

"How Did You Do It, Miss Wentworth?" She Asked in Awe.

what none of us would have dared to do—not me, nor Doctor Jenkins. "Why not?" asked Joan. "Mrs. Fraser, of whom are you afraid? And Doctor Lancaster? It is not of that man Myers, whom he could send about his business at any time when he found strength of will. Who is it?"

"O, Miss Wentworth, I don't know," the matron sobbed. "But save the doctor! O, do save the doctor from that man who is trying to kill him!"
